Day 2 - El Calafate

Breakfast

We will visit to the Perito Moreno Glacier:

A massive stream of ice and almost surreal experience, with its towers of ice exploding in mid-air and falling to the lake in multiple icebergs. Enjoy the excursion to the glacier, one of the few in the world still actually growing. Your outing will include a boat approach that will take you close enough to the glacier to listen to the constant groan of its crackling ice.

This park has been declared as Mankind Heritage by UNESCO. Those glaciers that named it (about 47) show us a 10 thousand-year-old world: cold and wild. The most famous one is Perito Moreno Glacier in the southwestern end of Argentino Lake at 80 km away from El Calafate. This glacier is so-called due to a great Argentinian explorer from last century and is one of the few glaciers that is still moving in the world. That is why it has become one of the most spectacular natural shows in South America. From time to time its 60-m-high snout releases some ice walls as huge as buildings that fall into Rico Bend or Canal de los Témpanos (Ice floes Channel) and then they continue sailing along the channel to the main area of the lake. However, that is not all. The glacier, while moving forward, comes closer to the Magallanes Peninsula, in the opposite lake bank as well as footbridge and viewpoint area. This cycle takes from 4 to 6 years and it eventually separates the lake into two areas. Rico Bend is dammed up and it increases about 35 m over its average level. Its water slowly pierces its way through the glacier snout until it makes it fall down. This show is breathtaking. Water becomes into terrific waves so the whole process restarts again

Complementary navigation of the Perito Moreno Glacier excursion. We will sail up to the southern end of the Témpanos Channel, then the boat gets near the glacier wall skirting it, allowing us to observe the icefalls that regularly take place. Accommodation.
